PROLOGUE

Our high school life, with its crises and complexities, parallels the game of chess, the object of which is to capture the highly elusive "King." Brookline High School guides us, its own special "Knights," toward reaching these goals—our "Kings." As we move across the board from freshman to senior year, we move towards happiness, wisdom and maturity. Before we begin another game, we reflect to see how many of us have captured our "Kings" during our high school years.

Gerrie -
It has been a wonderful experience knowing you. I have enjoyed your company and true friendship immensely. I have only one regret, that our friendship started so late in my life.

Be good,
Sandy

To Gerry,
It has been fun
knowing you. Good Luck.
— Kay

To Gerri,
A real sweet kid whom
I have had a lot of fun
with down the funchroom.
Best of Luck to you &
Marv and don't forget me when the invitations are passed out
Good Luck Always
Luv Cynthia

Gerrie -
When I first started being friendly with you I thought you were a swell kid and I still do, but slowly our friendship started to drift apart. Why I don't know. One reason is that people came back to me and said that you didn't like me so I figured that I wouldn't go out of my way for you. Even though I know we will never be close friends, I don't see why we can't get along with each other and be friends in school. Think it over.
Best of Luck in the future.
Love
Margie

Dr. ERNEST R. CAVERLY

Superintendent of Schools

Brookline is proud of its public-spirited school committee who guided our education from the primary grades through high school. The reputation of our school as one of the better secondary schools is a tribute to their efforts. We are grateful to them for initiating new and progressive ideas, such as the house system and the advanced placement program.

The students of Brookline High thank the school committee, Dr. Caverly, and Miss Macdonald for their guidance, their leadership, and their understanding during memorable years.

Dr. THOMAS KENDRICK

Chairman of the School Committee

Miss Ann E. Macdonald

Assistant Superintendent of Schools

Students seek advice from Dr. Holland.

DR. BERTRAM

H. HOLLAND

A familiar indispensable leader at B.H.S., Dr. Holland is the epitome of academic administration. Recently honored by a doctorate degree, he combines efficiency, leadership, and ability, to name but a few of his many admirable traits. It is our sincere hope that by reflecting honor upon the school, we can repay Dr. Holland for his uncounted hours of helpful and cheerful services. We shall always be grateful to him for his leadership.

The rules of chess are found in a compact book for accessibility to the players. Likewise, Brookline High School offers us the Student Manual, under the leadership of Melva Moskowitz. It contains summaries of club activities, sports, branches of student government, and also the National Honor Society constitution. The Student Manual is valuable to us all, and indeed is truly a Bible to the Freshman class.

Miss Tiews, Adviser.

If you count literature as a good friend, and would like either to write or read it, the Literary Society offers you invaluable opportunities. Books gain much when they are interpreted by the inquisitive minds of the Readers' Group, while student authors submit their original work for helpful criticism from the Writers' Group. The club holds joint meetings to listen to guests speak on the Humanities. The Society is a worthwhile supplement to classwork and individual appreciation.

Miss Tiews presents some of a writer's problems to these eager listeners.

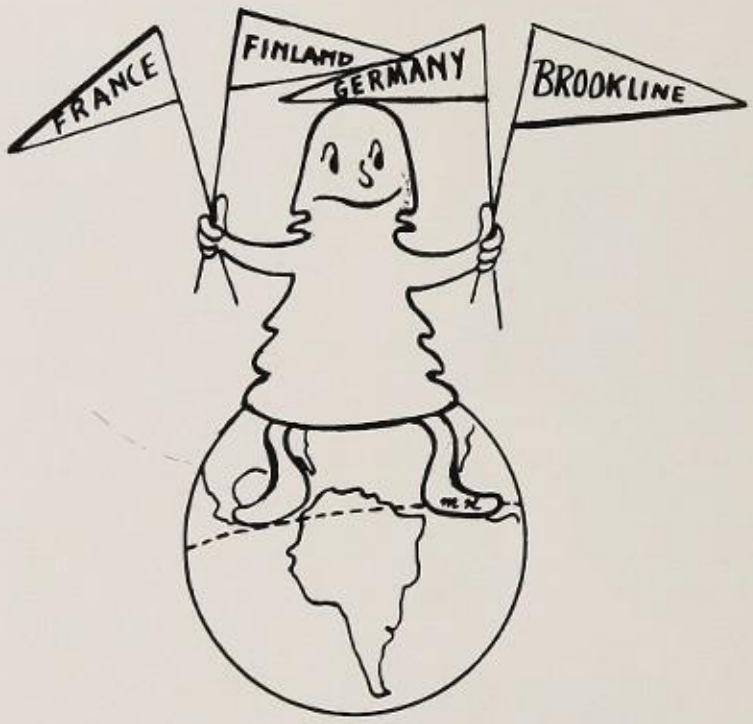
AMERICAN FOREIGN FIELD SERVICE

Row 1: Carol Levy (V. Pres.), Seppo Nieminen, Anne-Marie Lemaire, Michael Zack (Pres.). Row 2: Albert Eckian (Treas.), Barbara Weissberg (Sec.).

Michael Zack, President.

Mr. Goodrich, Adviser.

The entire community may be considered a member of Brookline High's American Field Service Club, whose purpose is to establish firmer ties with foreign countries. To support the A.F.S. program last year, the club helped parents raise money with a bond drive and an auction. This year, under the direction of faculty advisor Mr. Goodrich, the A.F.S. co-sponsored the Halloween Hop, and sponsored a Foreign Exchange Student Day, highlighted by an assembly of foreign students. Through their contributions to school activities, Brookline's own exchange students, Anne-Marie Lemaire from France and Seppo Nieminen from Finland, have demonstrated the benefits of the A.F.S. program.



Nanou happily receives her Girls' League membership card.

Carol, Seppo, and Barbara discuss "after—high school" plans.

BAND

James Rosenberg, Student Conductor.

Mr. Philpott, Band Director.

The sound of band music, along with the steady pulse of the bass drum, hurries you along to a rally in the gymnasium. This is the same band which, under the direction of Mr. Philpott and student conductor James Rosenberg arouses your school spirit at football games and entertains you at school assemblies. In addition, you hear this band at the annual Alumni Concert and at the Quadrangle Concert in the Spring. The Brookline Band is indeed a basic part of our school spirit, as well as an opportunity for talented musicians to gain experience.

The Spirit of Brookline High.

Attention everybody, please.

CONCERT CHOIR

Under the direction of Mr. Seymour, the renowned Concert Choir of Brookline High has upheld its esteemed reputation of past years. Outstanding singers from the chorus audition, and they are selected for their ability to read music. Challenging music is learned and performed before the school at a Christmas Assembly and at the Quadrangle Concert in April. This year officers have been added to the choir, and under President Jerald Weene, membership has been increased along with the well-earned respect of fellow students.

Mrs. Manley, Adviser.

Leon Jacobson, President.

Mrs. Manley, Adviser.

For those students intellectually stimulated, or for those interested in arguing intelligently, the debating society provides the perfect refuge. Mrs. Manley, the adviser, and Leon Jacobson, president, lead the club in informative and provocative debates, ranging in content from current event to timeless, universal subjects. This year, the novice team attended the Dartmouth College and Clark University tournaments, and they held interscholastic debates with North Quincy and Waltham High Schools. The purpose, in the words of the society, is: "To develop skill in debating and to train good citizens interested in affairs of democracy."

Karen seems confident that she and her partner will win the debate.

PERFORMERS TAKE OFF FOR NEVER-NEVER LAND

The Dramatics Society in cooperation with the Brookline Young People's Theater presented James Barrie's beloved Peter Pan on January 29, and 30, in the Roberts Auditorium.

Sophomore Edward Belsky, who as a freshman was a winner of the J. Murray Kay Prize Speaking Contest, played the role of Peter Pan. Belsky has been a star of the Boston Children's Theater for several years.

Ronald Hunter, president of the Society, played the dual role of Mr. Darling and the nefarious Captain Hook. Annalee Cohen portrayed Wendy Darling, and Jane Adelman was cast in the role of Liza.

The cast used the Kirby Flying Machines which have flown such stars as Maude Adams and Mary Martin. The machines were loaned to the Dramatics Society by the Broadway producer Peter Lawrence.

Peter comes alive.

Look at me, I'm flying.

Keith adds the finishing touches to the set.

We can fly; we can fly; we can fly.

Peter and Wendy hide from Captain Hook.

An addition made to the B.H.S. curriculum this year quickly became one of the most widely acclaimed and respected activities. The National Honor Society, open to all juniors and seniors who fulfill strict requirements, has taken the place of Alpha Pi. With the guidance of Mr. Mather and the leadership of Leon Jacobson, the Honor Society's activities included initiation ceremony in February and another one in May. By maintaining high standards, the Honor Society hopes to be a stimulus and a goal for underclassmen.

ORCHESTRA

David Seligson, Concert Master.

Mr. Joslin, Orchestra Leader.

The orchestra, tuning up for the Quadrangle Concert.

The orchestra of Brookline High School needs few laudatory remarks after the students have heard it perform. The musicians' skills are revealed by the varying and interesting repertoire which Mr. Joslin carefully arranges. Their activities include a concert in February, a spring concert with the choir, and performances for the elementary schools. The purpose of the orchestra, as well as to provide for the school's enjoyment, is to give interested and talented students an opportunity to increase their skill by playing in an orchestra.

SCIENCE FAIR

The Science Fair is an annual event at Brookline High, in which elementary, as well as, high school students participate. Physics, Biology, Chemistry, and Mathematics are some of the various represented in imaginative and admirable projects. Often started months in advance, these projects far exceed classroom study and exemplify much effort and time spent by the participant. Qualified judges evaluate the works, and the winners in each field are eligible to enter the State Fair.

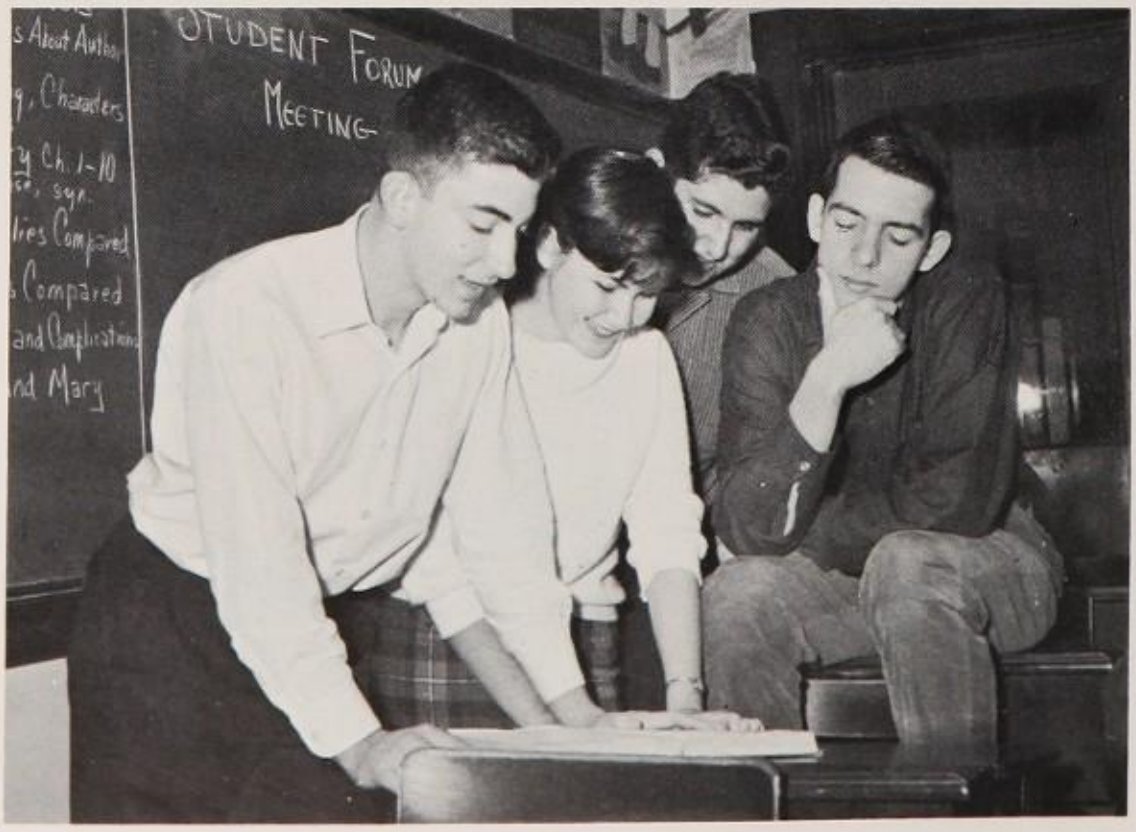
STUDENT FORUM

Stanley Greenblatt, President.

Mr. Dobras, Adviser.

Row 1: Robert Silverman (V. Pres.), Stanley Greenblatt (Pres.), Betty Troderman (Sec.). Row 2: Michael Fishbane (Treas.), Ronald Hunter (Asst. Treas.), Mr. Dobras.

Are you interested in current events as viewed from different parts of the world? The student forum led by Stanley Greenblatt with the guidance of Mr. Dobras, has conducted particularly interesting and provocative meetings this year. A prominent government man from India, who was guide at the World Fair, and other such speakers, discussed problems confronting the world or uniquely their own country. This activity is one of the most informative in the B.H.S. curriculum and attracts an exceptionally large audience.



Stanley presents the topic of the next meeting to his executive board.

STAGE AND ELECTRICAL STAFF

Mr. McCabe gives the boys last minute instructions for the morning exercises.

The Stage and Electrical Crew and the Audio Visual Staff keep Brookline High up to date on school activities and world affairs. Under the spirited direction of Mr. McCabe, the indispensable Stage Crew provides the electrical know-how of the Public Address system and of all school productions. Frank Wheeler acts as student director of the crew. Under Mr. Lowe's guidance, freshmen apprentices, as well as experienced upper classmen operators, provide techniques essential to showing films. James Franklin, David Victor, and messengers Virginia Jewell and Leslie Werner are four of an outstanding staff.

Both staffs put in countless hours of hard work to provide these important services for all of us.

CENTRAL TREASURY

Do you have any doubts that your money isn't being handled properly? One look at the monthly report of the Central Treasury of the efficiently totaled statistics of the Bank Staff every other Tuesday would be enough to dispel your doubts. Through these two services passes the money of all the organizations at Brookline High School. The Bank Staff, headed by Mr. Dunbar, is comprised of fourteen students from all houses including a staff messenger and a publicity committee. The Central Treasury, directed by Mr. Ehnes and ably staffed by students of the business department, performs a function well appreciated by all student treasurers.

COURT OF JUSTICE

Helaine, Richard, and Mr. Howard review the new constitution.

Most of us would agree that one of the bases of sound government is effective administration of justice. Brookline High's Court of Justice, with Mr. Howard as faculty adviser and Helaine Levi as Chief Justice, insures the effectiveness of our student government by advising action against those pupils who disobey school regulations. Nine justices, two defense attorneys from each house, a prosecuting attorney, and a sergeant-at-arms comprise the Court. In addition to the several cases it handles in closed sessions each month, the Court this year extended its jurisdiction over honor studies, and it rewrote its constitution. Most effective, of course, is sensible self-discipline, one of the Court's highest goals.

Row 1: Daniel Margolis, Edward Chalfin, Leon Jacobson, Helaine Levi (Chief Justice), Daniel Greenwald, Michael Halpern. Missing: Richard Seiden (Clerk).

GIRLS' LEAGUE

Cream and sugar?

Do you approve of the Supper Party menu, Miss Driscoll?

Girls' League, one of the truly versatile clubs at Brookline High, includes in its yearly program: social meetings, teas, a volunteer service program, a White Elephant Sale, a Fall Fashion Show, a Christmas Workshop, a Song Contest, and an Eighth Grade Party. Led by Miss Driscoll, faculty adviser, and Karen Conry, president, the League serves the school further by providing Junior and Senior Advisers to answer the questions of bewildered Freshmen. This year, the League will be especially remembered for its record membership—950 girls—, and for the Seniors' presentation of an original musical comedy, "Muddy River's Music Man," which took place, along with the installation of officers, at the annual Supper Party.

Karen Conry, President.

Miss Driscoll, Adviser.

Row 1: Susan Shanfield, Elaine Rosenfield, Carole Dane (Treas.), Liz Gordon (1st V. Pres.), Karen Conry (Pres.), Barbara Holtz (2nd V. Everyone should fill a Red Cross box.

To Jerry,
It was great taking this picture with you. You just don't know what a privilege this was. I don't know why my eyes were closed. I guess I didn't wake up. Good luck next year.
Love,
Mary

The Junior Red Cross, one of Brookline High's best known and most active service organizations, led by President Joan Winer, has accomplished many worthwhile deeds this year. The annual gift box drive in the fall and the enrollment drive in March are two of the club's better known activities. There are, however, many other equally important achievements such as hospital volunteers work and correspondence with students in countries which have benefited by the Junior Red Cross. This organization, under the able guidance of Mr. Weeks, is open to all students willing to help less fortunate people and is of a vital importance to the school, the community and the world.

There are many opportunities at Brookline High School for those students wishing to volunteer their time and ability in order to help someone else. Becoming a library aide enables the individual to assist others, as well as to gain valuable knowledge of library science. The aide is of great service to the school as he guides fellow students in locating material, helps the Librarian stack the shelves, stamps books correctly, and delivers newspapers to faculty members daily. Identified by Blue and Gold armbands, these volunteers provide a significant service in keeping the library efficient.

LOCKER MARSHALS

Stefanie Rowland, Adele Carissimo, Sue Brooks (Capt.), Thomas Godart, Mr. Wells, Cynthia Renta, Marjorie Conley.

Mr. Wells, Adviser.

The locker marshals, with Mr. Wells' help, keeps the students' lockers in good condition. They are always ready to search for a lost key, a misplaced book, or a missing coat. So do our other marshals, under Captain Lenny Magazine, help to lessen school problems. Rallies have been more orderly as a result of effective marshalling; the lunchroom has been comparatively neat; and corridor traffic has been steady. To supplement the marshals, infractions against the rules and regulations of the school are tried by the Court of Justice.

MARSHALS

Leonard Magazine, Captain.

Mr. Jordan, Adviser.

Row 1: Beverly Shindler, Linda-Rose Cortell, Ruth Williams, Hannah-Fay Hyte, Cynthia Stone, Tom Melican (Capt. Lunchroom), Billy Segel (Asst. Rosalie Berganti, President.

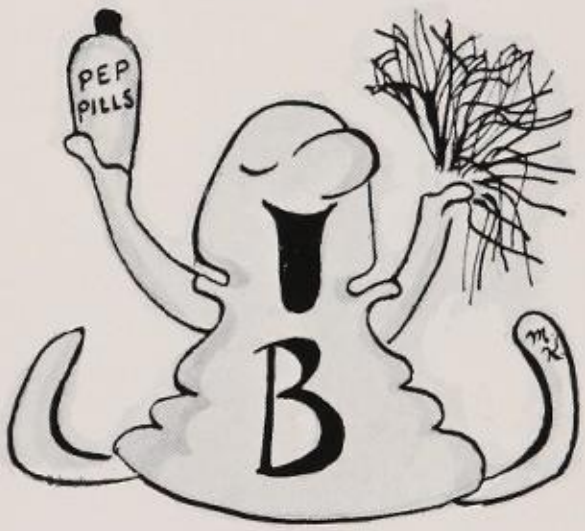
Mr. Borg, Adviser.

The Spirit and enthusiasm of the students, though intangible, is one of the most essential elements of Brookline High School. The Pep Club, advised by Mr. Borg and led by Rosalie Berganti, helps to maintain this enthusiasm at the games and rallies. Rallies are planned by the members, and they are promoted by the sale of carnations, book covers, shakers, and tickets for sports events.



We hope to see you at the game tomorrow. Without your support the Spirit of Brookline High cannot exist.

STUDENT COUNCIL

David Levenson, President.

Mr. Wright, Mr. Rinaldi, Advisers.

Just as our nation has a Congress representing all the states, so does Brookline High have a school Council representing all four houses. Demonstrating the efficacy of a democratic student government, the Council, aided by faculty advisors Mr. Wright and Mr. Rinaldi and President David Levinson, establishes school regulations, oversees the activities of the houses and clubs, and provides a schedule for club meetings. This year the Council accomplished a great deal by organizing the Girls' League Room and the study halls during lunch, sending representatives to P.T.O. meetings, selling banners, and sponsoring the successful second annual Winter Carnival. Also, the Council expanded to thirty-five members and, for the first time, held an all-school presidential election. That Brookline High's Congress is a truly important power in school affairs is clear.

Dave and his officers are pleased that the Winter Carnival was so successful.

Richard explains the intricacies of a ham radio to eager listeners.

The functions of the Amateur Radio Club are to arouse students' interest in electronics, and later, to help them obtain licenses to operate "ham" radios. Members of the club visit neighboring radio and television stations and participate in Civil Defense services. Thus, students feel the importance, as well as the thrill, of communicating with people thousands of miles away.

ART CLUB

Row 1: Penelope Ross, Marie Rocker (Treas.), Sandy Burniston (Sec.), Gloria Poock (Pres.), Elaine Michaels (V. Pres.), Sue Singer. Row 2: Mrs. Woodbury, Toby Meyer, Blanche Starr, Denise Lee, Hilary Lynn, Barbara Cherry. Row 3: Beverly Mosse, Suzanne Riette, Linda Schnitzler, Carol Kredenser, Leila Rosenthal.

Mrs. Woodbury, Adviser.

A long journey lies between the fingerpainting of a little child and the finished product of a professional artist, but the Art Club, through discussions, experiments, and helpful criticism of students' paintings, furnishes the steps along the way. Under the leadership of Mrs. Woodberry and President Gloria Poock, the club is planning a fashion show, to be given by a leading Brookline store.

I think you're learning to appreciate fine art, Gloria.

RADIO CLUB

Mr. Burack, Adviser.

BIOLOGY CLUB

Did you ever get that sudden urge to dissect a frog and find that your desire is frustrated by a definite lack of available material? If so, the Biology Club provides both facilities for future scientists and answers to questions which are not treated in detail in the regular school course. Led by Mr. Fox and President David Seligson, the club maintains a small zoo, makes numerous field trips, such as the bird walk at Larz Anderson Park, and supports the Science Fair. In addition, the club is active in the Biology Exchange Club, a nation wide organization composed of similar clubs.

Mr. Fox, Adviser.

Pres.).

Mr. Parfitt, Adviser.

Daring, resourceful, exciting—"The Man With The Camera"—and he got his start at Brookline High's Camera Club. An important feature of the club is darkroom classes to increase proficiency in developing and printing photographic work. Among the plans for a successful year are field trips, movies, lectures, and active participation in the Science Fair, all of which will be highlighted by a photo contest which all students may enter.

CHEFS' CLUB

Brother Gourmets.

Mrs. Barr, Mrs. Caton, Advisers.

The members of the Chefs' Club are part of the most delectable organization at Brookline High. Composed largely of freshmen, these boys learn the basic arts of the culinary world from their advisers, Mrs. Barr and Mrs. Caton. Those who show proficiency as chefs may specialize in a branch of cookery that particularly interests them.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

Cliffie ably demonstrates the extraction of Bromine from sea water.

Sis! Boom! Bah! No, this is not the noise of the cheerleaders practicing—this is the sound of a meeting of the Chemistry Club, when members perform individual experiments. The goal of this club is to acquaint students with the principles of Chemistry by inviting outside speakers to address the club, by visiting nearby chemical plants, and by conducting experiments, successful and otherwise. As part of its program, the club, under the direction of the adviser Miss Campbell, and President Eddy Dantowitz, helps sponsor the Science Fair, encouraging its members to take part.

Miss Campbell, Adviser.

Dr. Walsh, Adviser.

The Chess Club offers not only the temporary enjoyment of an exciting game, but also valuable experience in patience and logic. Under the leadership of President Mike Edesses and an excellent ten man starting team, the club has played such schools as Newton, Boston, Latin, and Cambridge Latin. While keeping up its high record of wins, the club also aims to teach the intricacies of chess to less experienced players.

DRAMATICS SOCIETY

Mrs. Randall, Adviser.

Peter Pan, produced this year with Eddie Belsky as Peter, will long be remembered as one of the best performances given at Brookline High. Another example of the outstanding work consistently presented by the Dramatics Society is the Variety Show. The Society is open to the student body, and under the direction of Mrs. Randall and President Ronald Hunter, it tries to stimulate appreciation of dramatic arts and to help students gain skill in acting and producing.

Successful opening night.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

Miss South, Miss Egan, Advisers.

The members of the Future Homemakers of America agree with the adage, "There's no place like home." To prove that this cliche is true the club sponsors a cake sale, a puppet show, and its members learn how to prepare unusual foods and serve the finished in a beautiful setting. In an age of frozen foods and paper plates, the do-it-yourself spirit of the F.H.A. is a hopeful sign towards "gracious living."

Cake baking is more fun than work for these future homemakers.

Row 1: Helaine Levi (Treas.), Melva Moskowitz (V. Pres.), Roberta Mark (Pres.), Reba Feldman (Sec.). Row 2: Danielle Freund, Betsy Ring, Diane Goldstein, Janet Aronof, Ruth Williams.

Miss Bridey, Adviser.

Have you ever noticed the announcement written on the blackboard of your French class, started to read it, and then discovered that you were amazingly reading French? Chances are you found that you were being invited to a meeting of Le Cercle Francais. At six meetings annually, through play, panel discussions, and informal French singing, the good French student learns about both the French language and French culture. Thus, the club, led by President Roberta Mark, promotes better understanding of another country that displays its "red, white, and blue."

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Marilyn practices her kindergarten techniques on Irene and Sue.

Throughout our childhood, and many of the years that follow it, our lives are greatly influenced by teachers. It is important, therefore, that high school students interested in teaching afford themselves the excellent preparation offered by the Future Teachers of America. Under President Susan Sagaloff, members of the club visit such places as the Perkins Institute for the Blind in order to observe the techniques used to teach the handicapped child. At all possible opportunities, the club engages its members in active teaching experience.

Rosenbloom, Jane Donahue, Mrs. Austin. Row 3: Richard Furash, Philip Sambol, Philip Shapiro, Jeffrey Posner, Alan Swartz, Herbert Rubin, Michael Matz.

Mrs. Austin, Adviser.

Classical Latin is a tie binding of many of the professions and all of the Romance languages. The Latin Club, however, is concerned not only with the elaborate syntax of Latin, but also with the ancient heritage of Roman civilization. Under Mrs. Austen's guidance and Frank Shulman's leadership, the club has started a newspaper, written in Latin, and is planning to produce plays in their Latin versions.

Row 1: Paula Nathan, Alvin Hornstein, Edward Dantowitz, Amy Colgan (Sec.), Steven Croopnick (V. Mr. Fuller, Adviser.

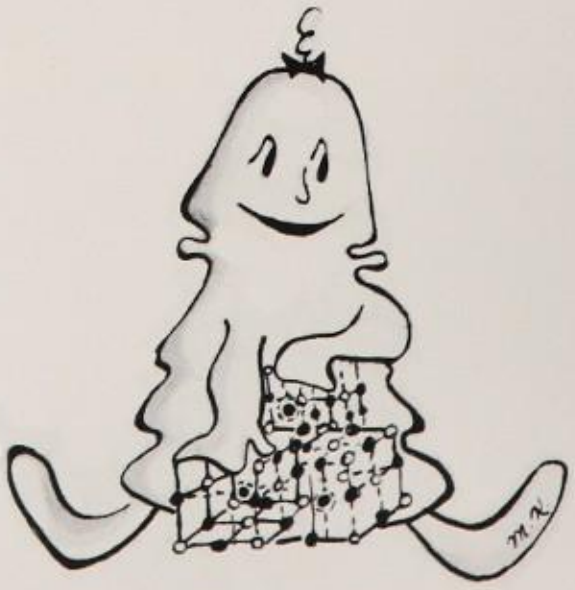
Pythagoras would look twice if he saw Brookline High students, slide rules in hand, eagerly investigating the realms of higher mathematics. The Math Student's Journal, a publication featuring complex problems and new ideas, is their guide book. Led by President Steve Croopnick, the club goes beyond ordinary class work and invites noted speakers to discuss mathematical concepts with its members. It also sponsors Science Fair projects.

PHYSICS CLUB

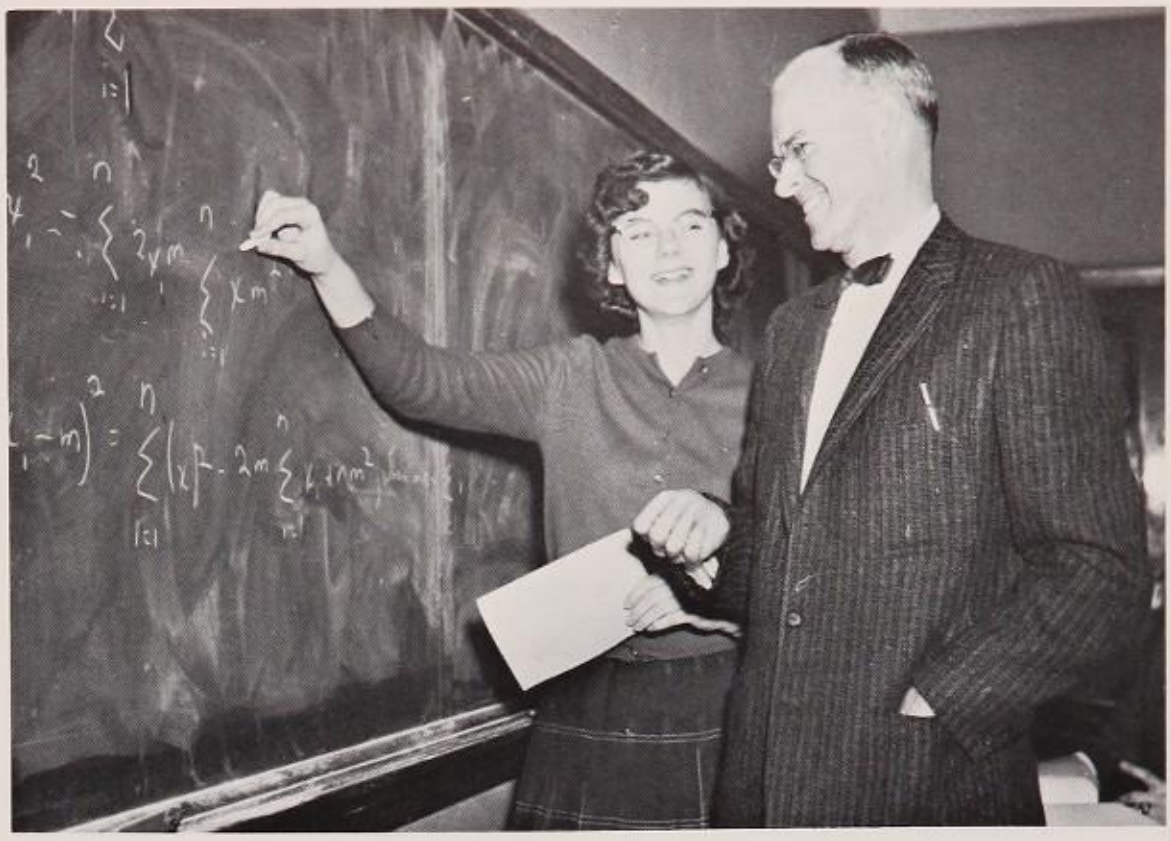
Row 1: Steven Dolberg, Alvin Hornstein (V. Pres.), Roger Selya (Treas.), Ellen Kazaras (Sec.). Row 2: Steven Croopnick (Pres.), Mrs. Shine, Mr. Tranberg.

Mrs. Shine, Mr. Tranberg, Advisers.

"Around the world in eighty days"—but what makes the balloon rise? This is a fundamental question which the Physics Club seeks to answer. President Robert Dreyfuss presides at bi-monthly meetings where the club members discuss and experiment with such phenomena as electricity and gravity, and where they plan projects for the Science Fair. In this age of technology, trained physicists are badly needed. The Physics Club provides valuable background for men who perhaps one day will answer this demand.



Steve demonstrates the use of solid geometry.



Mr. Moulton seems pleased with Fannie's explanation of the problem.

RADIO BROADCASTING CLUB

"The Sound of Music" can be found at a meeting of Brookline High's Radio Broadcasting Club, an organization that provides training for those interested in careers in radio broadcasting. In addition to frequent trips to radio and television stations in the Boston area, the opportunity to actually direct and produce radio scripts is available to members of the club. Tune in tomorrow to a meeting of the Radio Broadcasting Club.

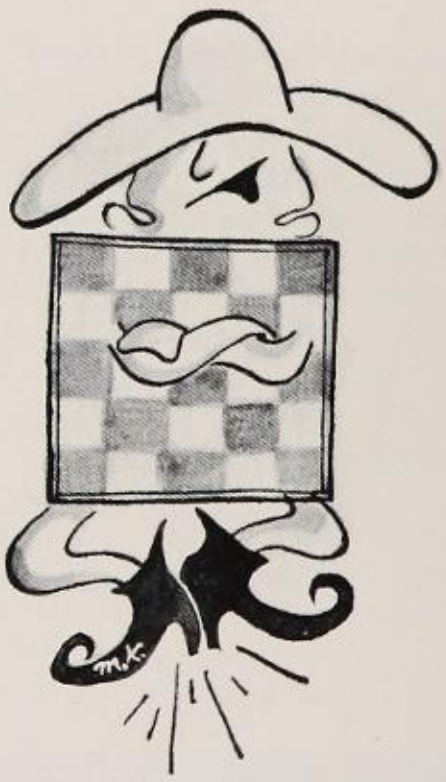
To use pink lipstick or to use red lipstick—that is the question,—and it can be answered at a meeting of the Social Customs Club. Whether you want information about make-up, good grooming, or just plain old-fashioned good manners, you can find it at a meeting of this club. Under the leadership of its adviser, Mrs. Caton, and its president, Amy Zall, the members of the club held a Christmas party for underprivileged children. A fund raising project, whose profits will be given to deserving organizations, is planned. Graciousness, that most important art, is the symbol of the Social Customs Club.

SQUARE DANCE CLUB

This is almost as much fun as square dancing.



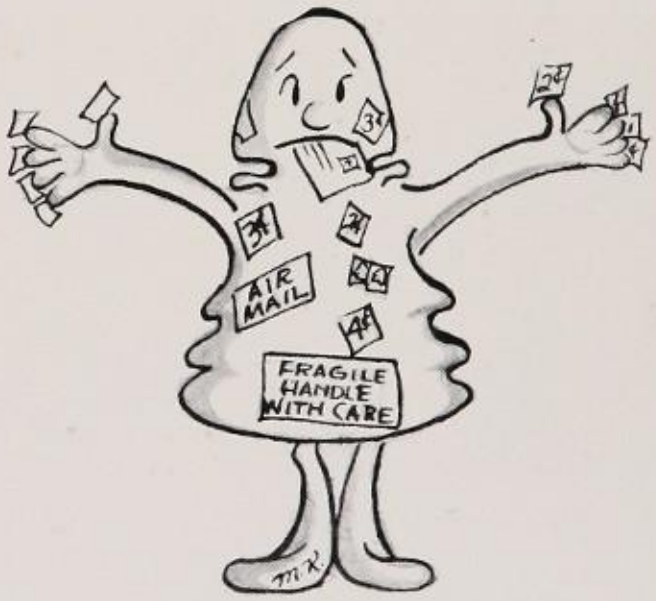
Row 1: Sterling Wall, Leona Pinkham, Cheryl Podbros (Pres.), James Franklin, Irene Brody (V. Pres.), Frances Hale.

Mr. Bemis, Adviser.

"Go around, around the outside of the ring." But if you are not a member of the Square Dance Club, you will probably get tangled up in the intricacies of "digging for the oyster" and "allemande left." The Square Dance Club, inspired by energetic Mr. Bemis, aims to eradicate any awkwardness from square dancing, leaving only the enjoyment that one receives from this spirited dance form.

Mrs. Caton and the girls make plans for the orphanage party.

STAMP CLUB



Barry shows Miss Bruce and the other club members the rare stamp he has discovered.

Often by looking at a collection of stamps from a country, one can tell much about the customs, history, and art of the nation. The Stamp Club, far from being limited to the mere collecting of stamps, attempts to discover the rarest and most revealing types which will broaden the knowledge of these fields. Individual stamps are discussed and rated at club meetings by amateur philatelists.

BROOKLINE TRIPS ORANGE, 22-15.

Late Rally Saves Towners

by

Bill Anthony

A twenty-yard touchdown pass from left halfback Kevin Mahoney to right end Peter Gorcyzk climaxed a brilliant second half rally by Brookline and gave the towners a 22-15 win over its Thanksgiving Day rival, Newton. The winning TD pass, with only six minutes left in the game, resulted when Newton's powerhouse left halfback Dave Connor fumbled on his own twenty-yard line and the ball was recovered by Mahoney. On the next play, quarterback Bob Donovan pitched to Mahoney who chucked the pigskin to Gorcyzk in the end zone.

From the three minute mark of the first quarter until the dramatic fourth quarter, Brookline fought an uphill battle. On the opening kickoff the Red and Blue looked like they were in charge of matters. Newton's Ralph Guzzetti fumbled on his own 27. After an exchange of fumbles, Brookline's stalwart fullback Sullivan carried to Newton's 30 from where Mahoney sped off right tackle to the two yard line. Sullivan cracked right tackle to score but failed on the PAT attempt.

Tigers Take Lead

Newton's offensive power came to life in the second quarter. Four plays later, Dick Paaso slammed home for the score. Paaso's 17 yard PAT try (after a five yard penalty) was good.

The Orange still had the scoring spirit in its blood after Paaso's end zone kick gave Brookline a first down on the 20. Bill O'Donnell pounced on a Mahoney fumble. Connor went to the 16; Paaso to the 8. Connor hit right tackle to the one foot line from where he scored off left tackle. His dash around right end added the extra two points.

Brookline, stopped up the middle by a determined line led by O'Brien, switched to a series of back-in-motion, slant, and end-sweep plays. Mahoney and Sullivan led the ground attack.

With fourth and two yards to go, Mahoney fumbled. The ball flew loose in the air and into Newton's Bill Sellers' hands. But Bill was immediately tackled, fumbled and Brookline recovered on the 12. On the next play, Bill Cavanaugh slid around left end to score. Lothrop added the extra points on a pass play.

Newton Fumble Costly

The decisive play of the game commenced when right tackle Joe Davis recovered Paul Guzzi's fumble on Newton's 19. Sullivan advanced the ball to the 10 from where Donovan rolled out and ran to the four. But Newton's defense dug in to stop Brookline with O'Brien throwing Donovan for a big loss and Sellers stopping Cavanaugh on a fourth down play.

With Newton in command, Connor hit off right tackle but fumbled on the 20 where Mahoney recovered.

The Orange made another giant effort to score. With Lerr in control Dalicandro went on a reverse to the 50 yard stripe. Passo, Connor and Carle gained first downs, but on a fourth and two situation from the 20, Paaso failed to get the necessary yardage and Brookline ran out the clock.

152-383

The End.

Bobby Sullivan breaks away with the ball on his way for a touchdown.

The winning team.

Mr. Schluntz and his hoopsters had an excellent year. Bob Sullivan, Harry Silverman, and Fred Newman returned from last year's Suburban League Champion team and were joined by juniors Ross Piken and Fred Wiseman to comprise the starting lineup. The accurate shooting of Newman and Silverman resulted in a high seventy point per game average. This, along with enthusiastic support from the bench, made it possible for our team to once again become the Suburban League Champions.

Coach McCann gives Joe advice for the coming game.

Hockey is a rapid, thrilling game and our boys are keeping pace with its excitement. Coach McCann and Captain Joe Moran have led the team in many effective offensive and defensive plays which have been efficacious. Sophomore Steve Burke sparked the team to a 3-1 victory over Boston College High by making three goals single handed. He has shot all the points for Brookline High this year with the assistance of his teammates, creating many stirring moments for eager fans.

Last year's impressive 14-3 record led Brookline High's baseball team to a second place in the Suburban League. The team took great pride in defeating our rival Newton, twice, the latter victory being a playoff game. Coach Fitzgerald is very optimistic about the coming season since the names of Kevin Mahoney, Harry Silverman, Fred Newman, and all scholastic Rose Piken will be appearing on this years starting lineup roster.

A sure winner.

Fred Silton, our champion hurdler.

The Winter Track season has been very successful. Just one example of this is our victory over Weymouth, 54-23. Ron Davis, Bill Cavanough, John Lothrop, Howard Schneider, and Kevin Mahoney all placed first in their respective events. In the B.A.A. meet, Ron Davis came in third in the mile, and Fred Silton, fourth in the hurdles, for a very impressive showing. The squad was ably directed by Coach Howard, in his second year as head coach, and Captain Bill Segel.

Paul, Mattie, Billy, and Ron.

CROSS COUNTRY TRACK

John goes up and over.

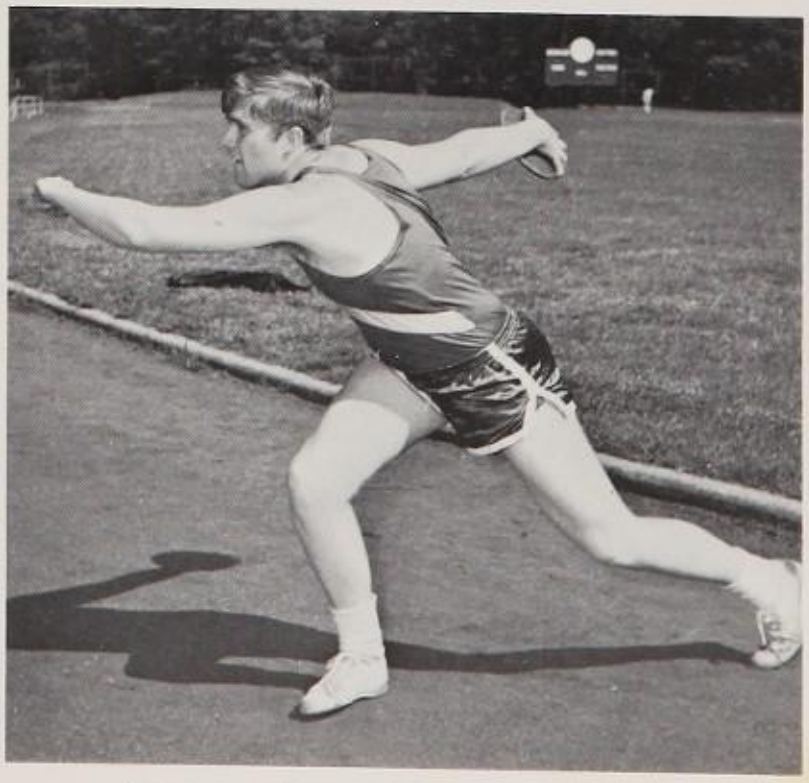
Cross Country Track, under the faculty direction of Mr. Howard, ended its season with four wins and only one loss. Co-Captains Ron Davis and Fred Silton led the team to a high third place in the Metropolitan meet and a commendable eleventh place in the State Meet. With five members of this season's team returning next year, we hope for a victory that might lead to the championship.

Fred, Joe, and Paul play to win.

Coach Howard gives Fred and Ron some advice before the State Meet.



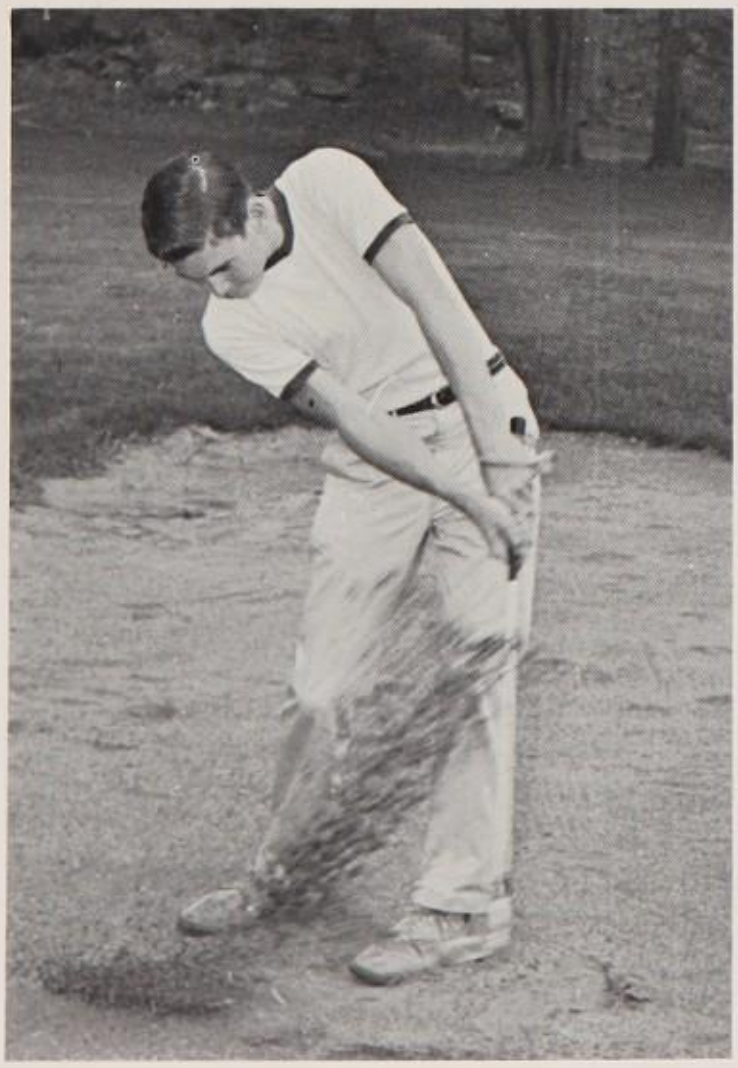
Watch out that you don't hit any one, Peter.

GOLF

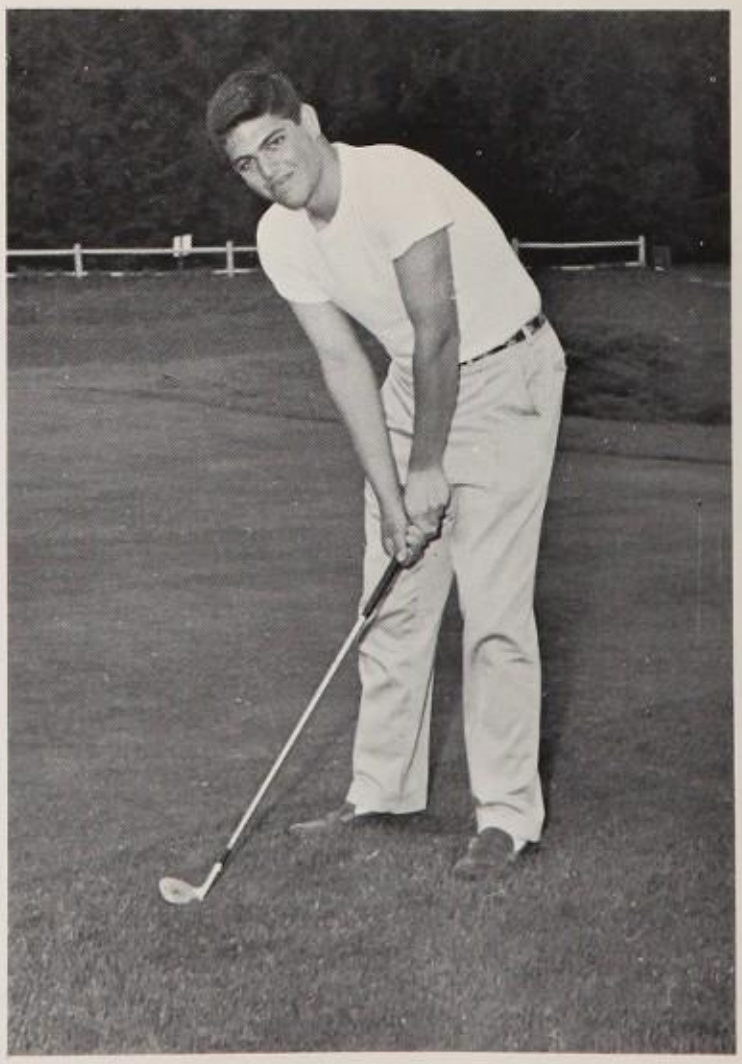
Row 1: E. Carmichael, M. Smith (Capt.). Row 2: J. Quinn, P. Foster, J. Freshman.

Michael Smith, Captain.

Because of the illness of Mr. Wells, coach of the Golf team, this season has been one of organization and practice rather than actual playing for the team. Capt. Mike Smith, top player from last year's team, is working with the boys in anticipation of a successful season next year.



John Quinn.



Jason Freshman.

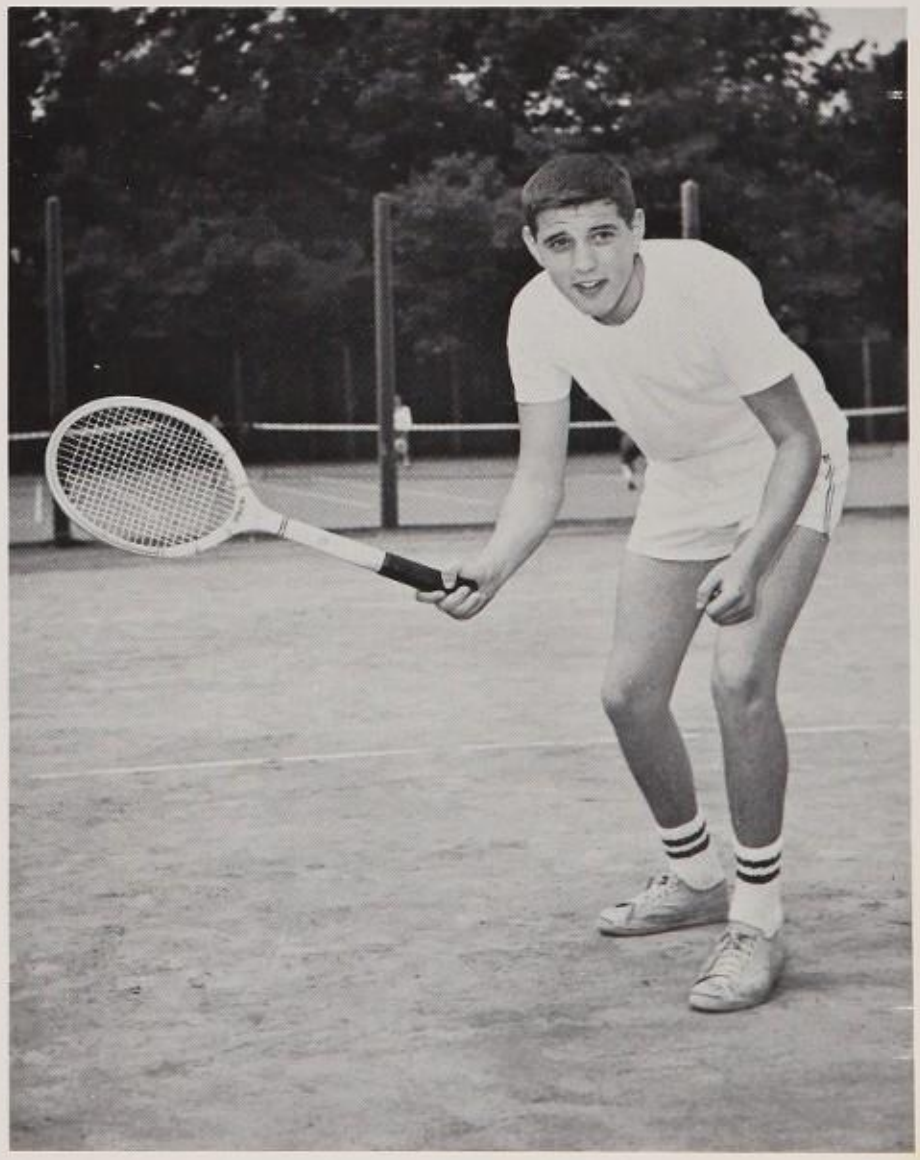
TENNIS

Harvey Harrison and Coach McCabe.

Row 1: A. Lipsky, J. Weene, H. Hyler, R. Baum. Row 2: Mr. McCabe, D. Victor, E. Dantowitz, R. Needham, S. Karr, H. Harrison (Capt.).

Our tennis team will be lead this year by Captain Harvey Harrison, the number one tennis player in New England. Coach McCabe has been working with the boys all winter to prepare them for the newly innovated March indoor tennis matches, as well as the spring tournaments. Brookline High is confident that our boys will do well in their new venture.

Stephen Karr.

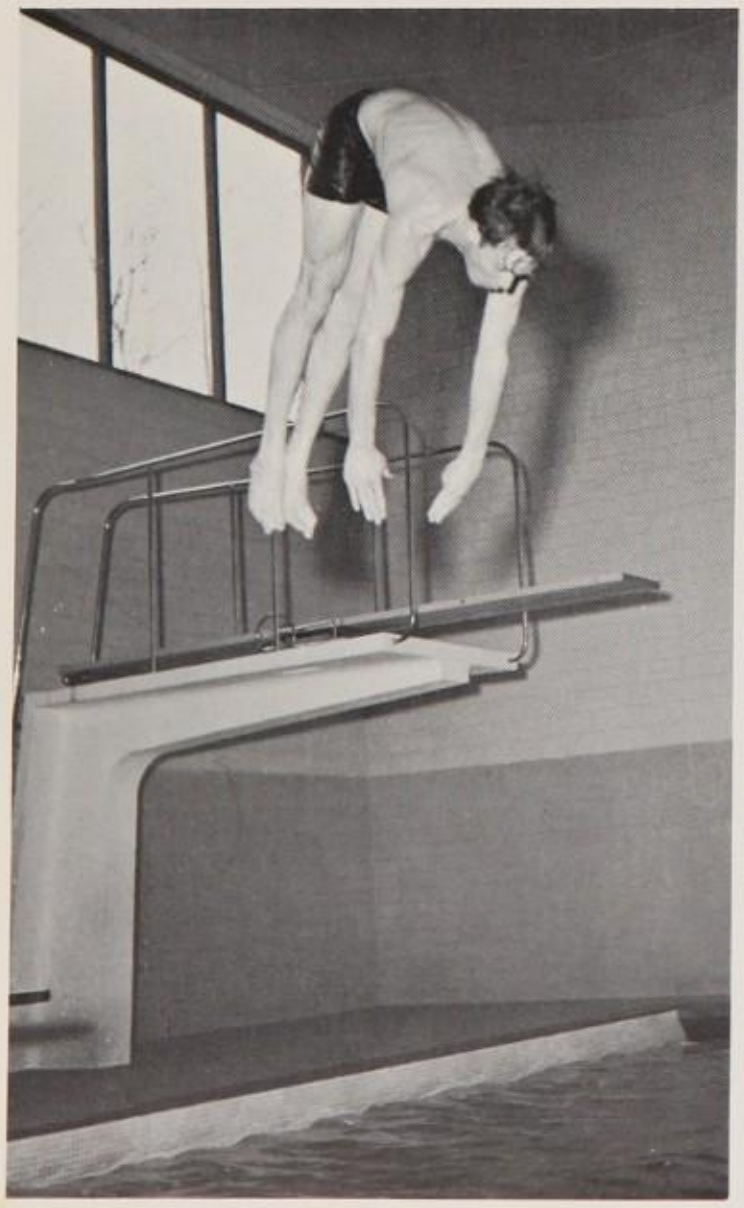


David Victor.

BOYS' SWIMMING

Row 1: Salah, Stearns, B. Fishbane, Helfen, Shine, Falk, Blonder (Co-Capt.), Rachins (Co-Capt.), Entis, Morse, R. Adler, Alter, Greenglass, Kaye, Kinch. Row 2: D. Fishbane (Freshman Mgr), Brada, A. Adler, Allen, Evers, Fine, Feldman, Rollins, Harley, Fanger, M. Rosenthal, Goldstein. Row 3: Seligson (Varsity Coach), Siegel, Hornstein, J. Rosenthal (J.V. Coach), Sacks, Rudin, Satran, Feingold, Dot, Barr, Farell, Goldberg, Sorenson, Goverman, Lewis, Mr. Case (Coach).

The building of our large new pool created a two year lapse in the swimming program at Brookline High. The team has been progressing steadily, however, and this year has begun to enjoy the fruits of its hard work. Co-captains Charles Blonder and Al Rachins led the team to victories over Huntington Prep and Wellesley High. Coach Case anticipates continual progress as the team attains more experience.



That water looks good.

Dear Gerrie,

In all my never-life I have never met such a girl who had everything plus. Un-this past year I never could imagine such a person, until I met you. You have shown me the meaning of true friendship and I can honestly say you are my most trustworthy, honest friend. I know I can confide in you, and I hope you feel the same toward me.

I hope our friendship never ends, and in the coming summer we will see as much of each other, as we do during the school year. When I am with you I feel confident, and at great ease.

As long as I live, I will never forget the night we went to my cousins drug store, and ate like pig Little things like that mean so much in a true friendship.

If it wasn't for you I would never have been able to transcribe those litchy letters Greenst gave us.

I want to thank you from the bottom o my heart, and thank God for bringing such a marvolous friend, as you.

Lots of luck to you and Marvel (Gigi)

EPILOGUE

It seems as though we are always in a hurry to grow up, rushing headlong through each year only to face the challenge of the next. A large measure of youthful exuberance is both normal and desirable. This haste, to be truly worthwhile, however, must be accompanied by an increasing awareness of ourselves and our world. At the moment, this world is Brookline High School which adequately arms us—its "Knights"—with the experience and knowledge necessary to capture our "Kings."

The reality which our symbolic chess game represents is found within ourselves. For some of us, the depth of our understanding is the measure of our progress.

Gerry,
a girl whom I have known for a long time, who has really taught me a lot of a lesson.
always stay exact. I know that forgave future is before you, and all I can do is wish you all the luck in the world. Love always Marilyn M.

To Gerry,
The sweetest person
I know. Best Wishes and Good luck in the near future
with all that you do.

Love,
Fran
